

Pockets are attached to the bag. One pocket is inside the bag at the upper or waist level and the other on the outside of the bag at a level between one-third to one-quarter the distance from the base of the bag. The pockets may be closed by any suitable closing structure. The entire bag can be fitted in a carry bag, cylindrical in shape, with a rimmed top for a shoulder strap which acts as a closure for the carry bag. A clasp is attached to the carry bag to enable its attachment to the bag while the bag is itself in use
